

ARRC SOFR Summer Series

The ARRC is hosting the SOFR Summer Series, a webinar series designed to educate the public on the history of LIBOR; the development and strengths of SOFR; progress made in the transition away from LIBOR to date; and how to ensure organizations are ready for the end of LIBOR.

The SOFR Summer Series includes panel discussions and presentations from representatives across various ARRC member institutions. Participants will have the opportunity to join engaging and dynamic sessions that give market participants practical guidance and answer any transition questions they have.

Those interested viewing in the upcoming events live can register here. Recordings and presentations from each webinar will also be posted below on this page afterwards.

This page will continue to be updated as further information is available.
